Care costs: our advice...

Always consider what benefits and entitlements are available. From split funding direct payments to multi-funding sources and various allowance schemes, there may be ways your local authority can help cover care costs. Contact your local authority for a Financial Care Assessment first of all or visit: www.direct.gov.uk.

And remember, we're here to help. As experts, we can help you through the process and we work with Pembrokeshire Financial Advisers, who can help with financial planning, visit:

Live in Care

Our Live in Care service gives people of every age who live in Pembrokeshire the chance to access 24/7, quality care from highly qualified care professionals all within the comfort and privacy of their own home.

In some cases, the service offers a critical life-line to those suffering from long-term conditions or acute disabilities, and for others it provides much needed short-term support in the form of respite care.

For partners or companions with varying care needs, Live in Care offers an appealing, cost effective alternative to traditional residential or nursing home care, especially when coupled with our domiciliary care package.

We believe the continuity of our carers, many of whom work with a single or small group of clients, also brings further comfort to our clients, who provide a sense of routine and companionship.

Whatever the requirement - from simple day-to-day tasks to specific means of support, such as Complex Care or Respite Care, you can rely on our Live in Care service. To find out more about the service, visit: careinhand.co.uk

How we can help

When we meet a new client, we assess individual needs and create a tailored care plan. One of our clients, Paul Murch, 38, from Tenby receives Live in Care support from us. He was diagnosed with Huntingdon's Disease about ten years ago. Here, Paul shares his story:

"I've always been a very independent person and the thought of leaving the comfort of my own home just seemed wrong to me. So when I was told about Care in Hand's Live in Care service, I soon realised it was the best option for me.

Jan and Barrie have been my regular supporters for some time now, spending two week periods at a time working with me. Although I am mobile, they give me that extra peace of mind that I need to live within my home. They help with cooking or cleaning when I have bad days, or at other times they're just great company.

I couldn't ask for better supporters. I think of them more as my mates now rather than carers. We have a lot of fun and they have already helped me to understand how to live as comfortably and as independently as possible with my illness. I can't fault the care I receive one bit, and would encourage anyone in the same position as me to consider live in care.
